Documenting Arkansas: The Civil War 1861-1865

This full-color, softcover book contains over two hundred documents from eighty different collections at the State Archives. For over a century, the State Archives has actively collected materials from this crucial era of our state and nation's history: diaries and letters written by soldiers and citizens; military orders; newspaper accounts; photographs, and broadsides recounting the day-to-day lives of people caught up in the most significant event in nineteenth century America. This volume uses these primary source materials to tell the story of the Civil War from an Arkansas perspective.

Traveled through a fine country

The Journal of Captain Henry Brockman Company K, 10th Missouri Volunteer Infantry, C.S.A. Henry Brockman of Missouri served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. During his time in the military he described his daily activities, the places he visited, and the things he saw. As Brockman "traveled through fine country," his tour of duty took him to major battles in Arkansas and Louisiana, including stops at Jacksonport, Pocahontas, Yellville, Des Arc, Helena, Little Rock, Benton, Arkadelphia, Warren, Camden, and Shreveport. For over 100 years, the Arkansas History Commission (State Archives) has preserved Brockman's writings.
